A sick world, like a sick man, pays little attention to what seem like minor ailments. When Russia, Palestine and India take up the headlines, there has been little interest in the Sudan. Yet the British at least know that trouble may be lurking there, and no doubt are keeping an eye on events in that part of the world.

The Sudan in theory is jointly ruled by Great Britain and Egypt. Actually Egypt has very little to say about the Sudan, and would like more. Not only does the Sudan cover 1,000,000 square miles, or nearly a third the area of the United States, but it uses for irrigation the waters of the Nile, which has often been called Egypt's life-blood.

Many Sudanese would like complete independence. Far fewer are willing to cooperate with Egypt. For the greater part of the 19th century Egypt ruled the Sudan, and very badly. Also the Sudan danese scorn the Egyptians, who are not first-class fighters. The Sudanese won British respect by their bitter fighting in the '80's and Declaring that no other nation in the world had the diversity of soils found in the Lone Star State, he described the rich sands of the plains, the loams and the black lands—and then traced the rise and fall of great civilizations in China, Italy and other places along with the depletion of the soils. He said China forgot her soil and is now a poor and starving nation. The rich mountains of Italy have been allowed to wash away and been allowed to wash away and Italy has dropped from the leader-ship that country once enjoyed. Barron said one great port of Italy in the past was now 20 miles in-

Then Barron came closer home in his discussion of soil depletion and told of the dust bowls of 1935, of the huge sums of tax money of the huge sums of tax money poured into a campaign to arrest this condition, reclaim lands, improve harbors and waterways, etc, to keep America strong and great. He spoke of the siltation of lakes and the "guilying" of the black lands. A return to clear streams rather than waterflows of muddy and silty water is desired to save the soil.

The former Corsicanan spoke of the doubling of manufacturing plants in Texas the past decade after pointing out that many farm families are out of places to stay.

ÇAt K. Wolens∽

He said that one family now can handle farms on which numerous families formerly lived through improved machinery, etc. He said that in 1916 Navarro county produced 86,000 bales of cotton and in 1944 only 35,000.

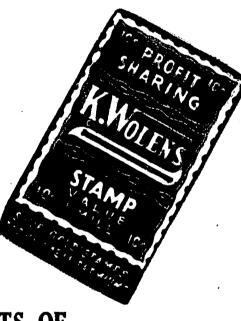

Terming the key to the happiness of our people and the world to be whether or not the educators caused the youth to think constructives ly or destructively, Barron reminded his audience of its paramount importance and responsibility to the nation.

day morning, the state attorney's office was closed.

The office of Charles T. Banister, county attorney, was closed through necessity and circumstances, however, and not by a court order or edict.

Banister was busy in the courtroom in the padlocking hearing. Seton T. Holsey, assistant county attorney, and Mrs. Kitty Beth Flynn, secretary-stenographer, were busy in the grand jury room—Holsey conducting the examination of witnesses before the probers, while Mrs. Flynn was taking the testimeny in shorthand, to be cor, while Mrs. Flynn was taking the testimony in shorthand, to be transcribed at a later date.

This was Mrs. Flynn's first experience before the grond jury investigating crimes in Navarro county and she was admittedly somewhat ill at ease and nervous as she prepared for her first work of this type.

There are only three persons working in the county attforney's office. They were all busy with assignments outside the office. There was none to answer the phone or questions—so the door was closed and locked. Those desiring the services of the county attorney's office were required to wait until some of the trio be-

Number Highway Projects Planned

AUSTIN, Dec. 18.—(P)—The state highway commission will spend an estimated $6,530,500 from state road fund reserves to improve 1,456 miles of Texas highways, it was announced here yesterday.

The program includes 169 separate projects.

Asphalt roads will claim most of the improvement, including reshaping, widening, bridge widening, building stable shoulders, eliminating sharp curves, resurfacing deteriorating pavements and others. Work is scheduled to begin in the spring and summer months of next year.

Included in the projects was: Hill County—New surfacing at an estimated cost of $13,100 on Highway 22 from one mile west of Hillsboro to Whitney, 10.4 miles.

Jingle bells:
Just one week from today will be Christmas. As a public feature service we'd like to remind you that there are only five more shopping days.
But you can't look at the calendar and say five shopping days: You may usually count on unexpected company ruining one day, bad weather another, and maybe a sprained ankle, a hangover, or some other act of God still a third. So that leaves two shopping days. Get going!

They wasted no time in Cleburne-Santa Claus visited the town in a special train the first week in December. The three-car special caused a flurry of exspecial caused a flurry of citement among the youngsters.

Tyler had its biggest Christmas parade in history Dec. 2. It was a mile long and featured 50 giant balloons representing animals and caricatures of humorous figures.

Hereford, on the high plains of the Texas Panhandle, has about as hard a time growing trees as they do in Brooklyn.

But this year Hereford is going to have a mammoth Christmas trees as the center of its holiday

6. Make minor revisions in the payment of estate and gift taxes. This would reduce revenues by about $200,000,000.

All reductions would be effective next January 1, and taxpayers would be refunded any overpayment between them and the date of enactment.

Solution in the windup shuffle.

One Democratic congress member, asking not to be quoted by name, told reporters it looked to him like the whole issue was "a dead duck" for this session.

After the meeting broke up, reporters were called in.

Bridges started to tell them about the votes, but Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass) objected. Then Bridges had a stenographic reporter read chronologically the entire proceedings.

Anderson Opposed.

Anderson Opposed.

It all added up to this:
Anderson repeatedly contended that the law forbade him to make public names of traders gathered by the agriculture department under its authority over commidity exchanges. But said he was not refusing and would make the names public and give them to the senators if they insisted.

NEWS EVENTS OF 1947 IN PICTURE REVIEW

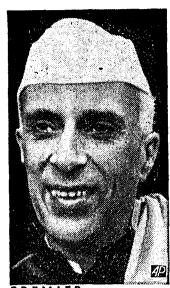

-BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-

TEXAS CITY HOLOCAUST — This spectacular fire, set off by explosion of French ship Grandcamp on the Texas City, Tex., waterfront April 16, brought death to 468, injured 3,000.

COMEBACK — The political fortunes of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, (above) wartime Free French leader, took an upturn in a year which saw Communists stage numerous strikes, demonstrations and riots in both France and Italy.

PREMIER—To the accompaniment of bloody Arab-Hindu rioting, India was separated from Pakistan and achieved dominion status in 1947. As the new government was formed, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru (above) became) India's prime minister.

an automatic camera in a V-2 rocket 100 miles above White Sands, N. M., shows more than 200,000 square miles of U. S. and Mexico. Dark finger (upper left) is Gulf of California.

HUNGARIAN BATTLE-ROYAL — 1947 saw Communist-dominated governments take over much of Balkans, Here Communists break up a freedom party meeting in Szeged, Hungary.

ROYAL NEWLYWEDS Princess Elizabeth of England and her bridegroom, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, posed for this picture in Buckingham Palace after their return from their wedding in Westminster Abbey, Nov. 20.

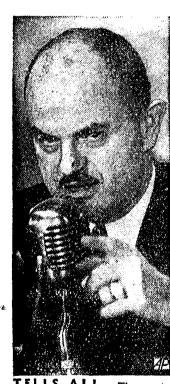

CRISIS IN BRITAIN — England's economic crisis made 1947 headlines. Among contributing factors was the worst blizzard in 50 years, halting fuel transport and killing livestock.

This scene is in Yorkshire.

AIRLINER TRAGEDY - Among several tragic accidents to airliners during 1947 was this crash of a UAL plane taking off from LaGuardia Field, N. Y., May 29, in which 43 died.

TELLS ALL — The senate committee investigation into Howard Hughes' wartime plane, contracts took a sensational sidetrack in testimony by Maj, Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, (above) who told of his ventures into romance and finance.

STRIFE IN PALESTINE — United Nations decision to partition the Holy Land between Arabs and Jews led to many pots of violence. Above Asher Lazar, Jewish newspaperman, is attacked by an Arab on a Jerusalem Street.

TWO TRAINS MEET—The "friendship train," bearing gifts of food to Europe's hungry, and the "freedom train," touring the U.S. with historic documents, meet at Harrisburg, Pa.

EXILE—Communists came into power in Hungary, compelling Frime Minister Ferenc Nagy (above) to resign and leave the country, Exile of Nagy, who came to the U.S., was assured by holding his son as hostage until Ohe agreed.

WITNESS—Adolphe Menjou, veteran film actor, puffs on a cigaret during a pause in testimony before the house un-American activities committee, which held hearings on alleged Communist infiltration into motion picture making.

FLORIDA STORM — A September storm brought extensive damage to parts of Florida, especially in the Miami Beach area (above) where high seas pounded waterfront homes.

and M. College agricultural experiment station in Progress Report 1098 covering a survey recently conducted by the station in co-operation with the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Evonomics.

According to Motheral only 1,773,000 persons were living on Texas farms in January, 1947. Despite a high birth rate in relation to the death rate in rural areas, the state's postwar farm population is lagging far behind the prewar figure of 2,107,000 persons. There are only three-fourths as many Texas farm residents now as there were in 1930.

A modern record was established in 1945 when farm population dropped to 1,577,000, the lowest since before the turn of the century. Recovery has been slow, Motheral indicated, because of current high levels of urban employment plus drastic reductions in farm labor requirements through mechanization and changing crop and livestock organization.

and livestock organization. Basic Influences.

Oddly, the farmers themselves tended to minimize these basic influences in presenting their opinions in the survey. One of the most frequently mentioned explanations for the reluctance of vetal erans to go into farming was the "lack of city conveniences." Poor roads lack of electricity, and gen-erally unattractive living condi-tions on farms were named as the main reasons of loss of interest by prespective farmers. A Bell county farmer complain-ed that farm children often must walk several miles in the mud to meet the school bus, and that not even doctors are able to trav-el some of the country roads when or few veterans and ex-war works or returned to Texas farms since there is sickness in the family.

Some of the answers are supplied by Joe R. Motheral, economist in rural life at the Texas A. and M. Valley Oranges, Grapefruit Good Christmas Gifts

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 18— (P)—Sweet juicy oranges and tangorines, as well as golden grapefruit, mean Christmas in any language, and the Rio Grande Valley is playing Santa Claus again this year.

Back in 1900, the Rio Grande Valley was a vast, brush-covered country with a dense growth of mesquite, ebony, huisache and prickly pear, sparsely populated with runchmen. Today, more than eight million citrus trees are on the same area and produce thousands of carloads

In 1904, the first railroad went into the Valley and paved the way for later development of the citrus industry. It was 1915, however, before the first substantial commercial planting of 300 acres of grapefruit and orange trees was brought from Florida by John H. Shary and set out near the town of Mission. The success of this planting encouraged others until in less than five years there were almost a million trees scattered from one end of the Valley to the other. The first carload of citrus fruit was shipped north in 1921. In 1904, the first railroad went from one end of the Valley to the other. The first carload of citrus fruit was shipped north in 1921.

Orchards Move Northward.

The clearing of brush was a tremendous undertaking and is still being carried on as the citrus orchards move northward. The skillful engineering that spreads the waters of the Rio Grande river through 3,000 miles of irrigation ditches to cover 350,000 acres of land is one reason why such a volume of fruit an be produced. olume of fruit an be produced.

Heartbreaks Entered On Salvation Cecil Thompson Army's Ledger Of Christmas Needy Is Released By Will Be Brightened With Baskets

By BOB CAMPELL Daily Sun Staff

At 215 West Collin St. there is ledger.

the way, You car look an entry. It goes Jou car look an entry. It goes something like this: "John Doe. He's 83, and was burned out. Grandchildren (4) need clothes, toys, food." "Burned out!"

"Burned out!"

It seems to cling to the ledger pages, that simple little message. Disaster in an old book, heartbreak on a white shoot.

"Burned out!" means exactly what it says. Here is an old man. He had a roof over his head—rented, perhaps, but a covering. And then there came the fire, and what he had went with it.

"Burned out," Maj. Wm. Carter of the Salvation Army citadel writes close by his name. His wife takes it up from there. She investigates, in most cases finds the plight is true, only usually a little worse.

plight is true, only usually a little worse.

Take another—(It's Christmas time, take several):

"Mother, with daughter, 37, bed-fast with paralysis. Would like basket—sent name in."

Christmas doesn't relieve paralysis. Christmas doesn't help the mother generate more cheer than ordinary. Christmas, that is, without the Salvation Army.

The notations, some written painstakingly, others scrawled hurriedly, but all accomplishing the same purpose, keep going down the page.

Particular About Baskets

The little major is very particular about his baskets.

He is a practical man. He knows a flat stomach when he sees one.

He is very particular about what goes in his baskets. A roast—a piece of meat that can be used the next day. And potatoes instead of hilly, and rice instead of tissue paper, and coffee instead of peppermint candy. And a little ird, and some beans. And a blessing on the household, which, in all probability needs all the guidance that God can spare.

Often his telephone sings. Same hext day. And potatoes instead of hilly, and rice instead of tissue paper, and coffee instead of peppermint candy. And a blessing on the household, which, in all probability needs all the guidance that God can spare.

Often his telephone rings. Somebody with a kind heart wants the name of a family on his roster for a Christmas basket. He knows the name of a family on his roster for a Christmas basket.
